10. Google Chrome Desktop Icon

Google Chrome Desktop Icon is a small icon that you can use to launch Google Chrome from your desktop. It is a convenient way to access the browser without having to open a web browser first. To create a desktop icon, you need to go to the Google Chrome settings and click on the "More tools" button. Then, click on "Add to desktop". This will create a desktop icon for Google Chrome. You can also create a desktop icon for other applications, such as Microsoft Word or Excel. To do this, you need to go to the application's settings and click on the "Add to desktop" button. This will create a desktop icon for the application. You can then click on the icon to launch the application. This is a convenient way to access applications without having to open a web browser first.

14. Android 5.0 Lollipop

Android 5.0 Lollipop is the fifth major version of the Android operating system. It was announced by Google at the I/O conference in May 2015. The update brings a new look and feel to the system, with a focus on simplicity and ease of use. Key features include the new Lollipop design language, which features rounded corners and a more unified look. The update also introduces a new notification shade, which allows users to see more notifications at once. Other features include a new app drawer, a new home screen, and a new lock screen. The update is available for a wide range of devices, including smartphones, tablets, and wearables. It is a significant improvement over the previous version, and it is highly recommended for users to upgrade to the latest version of the operating system.
